

Sinclair
Broadcasting's
decision to force
their stations to air an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election
is a clear example
of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. This large company has decided to put the
lean on local stations to promote lies and to try to change the outcome
of an election.
This type of
bullying is disgusting! Instead of something
produced at "News Central" far away,
it's more important
that we see real people from our own communities and more
substantive news
about issues that matter.

FCC, please do all
you can to keep the
airwaves honest.
You charged NBC half
a million dollars
for a "wardrobe malfunction"... I cannot imagine the price Sinclair
should have to pay
if this anti-Kerry
documentary should be shown. Our nation is relying
upon you to help
serve the community
near us, not to serve the gluttony
of a large corporation trying to keep Bush in office.

Sinclair's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license

renewal process
needs to involve
more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
